KEYES CONVICTION UPHELD BY STATE COURT

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Rumblings of another gasoline price war are coming from the north where retail dealers are reported to be reducing the price of the traveling fluid. Oil dealers in the San Francisco bay area, however, deny that a cut in price is contemplated.

With the new gasoline storage ordinance in effect in Richmond, there won't be any opportunity to store up some of the cheap gas for future use. We have a hunch that maybe the tire and automobile dealers are behind this price cut.

Figures out very simply. You've got to use up the gasoline right away. Being only human, you'll buy more whether you need it or not. As you will have your tank full practically all of the time, there will be no excuse for denying the long trips for the family. And there you are—the more gasoline you use the more rubber comes off of the wheels and the more mileage piles up on the old speedometer.

Queer people, these automobile and gasoline men.

Sportsmen are worrying about the diminishing game in the hills. While the state is releasing game birds during the closed season, it is not replenishing the supply as fast as might be desired.

Many of you boys who like to go out shooting during the hunting season might help things along by raising a few of your own. For a few dollars you can put up a small enclosure in which you can raise pheasants, quail and other game birds. Of course, a permit is needed but that can be had for the asking. If a few hundred sportsmen tried this out and released a few of the birds every year it would not be long until you would have something to shoot at.

And it's a great deal of sport to raise the birds.

Comfortable dinners are no longer permissible according to an Oakland court decision. If friend wife objects to you eating in your shirt sleeves, all she has to do is file a divorce suit to rid herself of the spectacle. An Oakland woman was yesterday granted a divorce because she said her husband insisted on eating his meals without wearing a coat.

Funny world. Eight years ago, a youth then eight years old, had a hankering for a stick of gum. He couldn't lay his hands on the penny required so he helped himself to the gum in a vending machine. Recently when he came up for a civil service position in Alameda county the charge was revived by someone with a long memory and a desire to "help" others along. The examiners, however, stated that the ancient juvenile prank would not be filed against the man's record.

Add to the list of meanest thieves the light fingered one in Stockton who took a faked out income tax report. There is an excellent example of love's labor lost.

ZEP SERVICE TO ORIENT IN 1932

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—UP—"As soon as postal contract legislation, and provision for operation of the dirigibles overseas is made, zeppelin service between the Pacific coast and the Orient will be a reality," said Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation, now in San Francisco.

Litchfield anticipated that unless the needed legislation is unduly delayed, the first of the contemplated air giants should be completed by 1932.

A northern California base will not be selected until the navy has chosen its dirigible base.

A 36 hour schedule to Hawaii from San Francisco and Los Angeles, with extension of the service to the Far East with the building of more dirigibles, is planned.

The zeppelins which will be built immediately upon receipt of the desired postal contracts are to cost $5,000,000 and will accommodate 100 passengers and 25 tons of freight, Litchfield stated.

PAULSEN WILL ATTEND MEET

Mayor A. L. Paulsen will attend a meeting of mayors of central California cities to be held in Vallejo Saturday afternoon at the Vallejo city hall.

Elimination of grade crossings will be discussed by Mayor Christensen of Palo Alto.

Bert B. Meek has been invited to attend the session.

The meeting will start at two o'clock and will be followed by a dinner at six o'clock in the Casa de Vallejo.

Fire Disturbs Naps In Movie

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Fire in the Empire theater here today almost ruined the sleep of the audience.

The women, Mrs. Martin Jackson, Mrs. Rosie Smith and Mrs. Charlotte Peet declare Mrs. Schroeder told them she "held my gun against Brady Paul's stomach while I pulled the trigger."

The depositions are being taken in Pennsylvania by Edward C. Bergan, Pennsylvania police official and S. C. Pugliese, an assistant prosecuting attorney of Lawrence county.

Both Pennsylvania officials said it was probable the three women would be taken to Lawrence county to testify in Mrs. Schroeder's fight against the electric chair, inasmuch as no other confession had been obtained from her.

Alstrom Dismisses Non-Provide Case

JOHN WALSH was released on his own recognizance yesterday by Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom after Walsh had promised to pay for the support of his child and had turned over to the court a sum of $100 to be given to his wife.

Walsh was arrested in Tulare by Capt. of Police L. E. Jones recently, and returned here to face charges of failure to provide. The warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Anna Walsh of Richmond.

GIRL ADMITS SLAYING OF POLICEMAN

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 27.—UP— Irene Schroeder confessed to the murder of Brady Paul, Pennsylvania state policeman, during her stay in Maricopa county jail two months ago, it was revealed today.

The confession was made to three women inmates of the jail, with whom Mrs. Schroeder shared a cell shortly after she and her gang was captured after a gun battle southwest of here, Sheriff C. L. Wright declared.

Depositions from the women are enroute to New Castle Pa., and will be used in the trial of the gun girl, set for March 10.

The women, Mrs. Martin Jackson, Mrs. Rosie Smith and Mrs. Charlotte Peet declare Mrs. Schroeder told them she "held my gun against Brady Paul's stomach while I pulled the trigger."

UKIAH, Feb. 27.—UP—Baffling all efforts of physicians to diagnose his trouble, John Harvey, 14, had today passed his 550th hour of unconsciousness following a collision between his bicycle and an automobile on February fourth.

The youth shows no signs of cranial or internal injury and has a normal temperature. He is kept alive by food administered in liquid form through a tube.

CALFEE TO CAST HAT IN RING

The resignation of attorney Tsar N. Calfee last evening as a member of the executive committee of the American Legion, giving as his reason "that I contemplate entering the political field and those seeking office are not eligible to hold office in the Legion" is taken by people generally that he will be a candidate for office at the coming election.

Calfee was called on the telephone by the RECORD-HERALD and asked if his resignation meant that he was going to be a candidate for district attorney.

"I have been importuned to run by people from up country as well as here, who are in sympathy with my ideals regarding the conduct of the district attorney's office," Calfee said. "They feel it should be nearer to the people, that there should be a closer contact with the public. Although I have given serious consideration to the matter, I have not yet fully determined just what I will do. However, I will make a formal statement in the next few days."

The resignation of Calfee handed into the Legion, last night, reads as follows:

Richmond, California, February 27, 1930.

American Legion, Richmond Post No. 10, Richmond, Calif.

My Dear Comrades:

I am herewith submitting to you my resignation as a member of the executive committee to take effect on the first day of March, 1930.

The reason for my resignation is that I contemplate entering the political field and those seeking political favors are not eligible to hold office in the Legion.

You may rest assured, however, that I will still work in the interests of the Legion and for those high ideals that the Legion strives for. Any time that I am needed, I am at your command.

Respectfully submitted, Tsar N. Calfee

LEGION HAS ACTIVE MEET

Ten candidates were last night initiated into Richmond Post of the American Legion at a big meeting in the Memorial hall.

The meeting was attended by many out of town members of the Legion, and many members of the Legion auxiliary.

Art Young, past commander of the Second area and Phil Solon, head of the department of California Legislative committee were the principal speakers of the evening.

Young spoke on "The American Legion and its Auxiliary." He spoke chiefly on the auxiliary and its work, declaring that the auxiliary had just started its work and that in 10 years it would be at the peak.

Solon spoke on "Legislative Aims of the American Legion." Both Solon and Young are members of the Oakland group and their speeches were well received by the audience.

Ed Bolt also of Oakland, and manager of the department of California Legion Monthly, a Legion newspaper, spoke on the circulation of the paper. According to Bolt, the circulation now is more than 23,000 in California.

Other distinguished visitors of Legion circles were Steve Neilson of Martinez, ninth district commander; Mortimer Vea, a member of the state ritualistic committee from Antioch; Councilmen A. J. Meyers, George Imbach and A. B. Hinkley and Mattie Chandler from Richmond.

Following the initiation and speeches dancing was enjoyed in the ballroom of the Memorial hall and a buffet supper was served in the lobby.

This is an election year.

The political plum tree is heavily laden with many fat jobs, and numerous high salaried deputyships.

As Contra Costa is the reputation in the state of being one of the highest salaried counties, the offices are worth fighting for.

All of the county officers will be up for reelection. From the news that is spreading around there will be candidates in the field in opposition to those who have held office for nearly a quarter of a century.

Changes Made

Even at the last session of the legislature, there were a number of changes made in the county government act, which regulates the salaries of the county officers.

A copy of this act has just been received. It provides for compensation of county officers and their deputies as follows:

COUNTY CLERK—$2000 a year, chief deputy, $3000, 2 court room deputies at $2400 each, 1 office deputy at $2100, 2 office deputies at $1800 each.

The clerk was also given an additional deputy at $1800.

WASHINGON—$2400 a year, chief deputy, $3000, 2 court room deputies at $2400 each, 1 office deputy at $2100, 2 office deputies at $1800 each.

The salary of the county officers was increased.

SHERRIFF—$6000 per year, all mileage and fees for service of civil papers and all expenses in criminal cases including 10 cents per mile for automobile use. Deputies for this office are given 10 cents per name.

Remembering?

The elements shall gather them together

And some day bind the torn bits to each other

Men Simply Can't Stand Being Criticised!

EVERY time we hear some man emit a sermon or a sarcasm on "vain women," we think of the text about the mote and the beam. For honestly, how can any member of the vain male sex have the temerity to criticise female vanity? It is yet to be shown that, even in the matter of clothes, women's vanity outdoes man's.

In fact, according to a fashion questionnaire recently sent to Elizabeth Phelan, a cosmetics instructor at Columbia, to fifteen hundred persons of either sex, more men than women were willing to deprive themselves of pleasures so as to dress in style, and nearly twice as many men as women would deprive themselves of necessities for the sake of following fashion.

An even shrewd test of vanity than a passion for clothes is one's sensitivity to criticism. Here, it seems to us, there is simply no comparison between man and woman. The latter endures with comparative equanimity a continuous male bombardment on the way they dress, talk, work, behave, love, live. But let a woman—don't we know it!—raise voice or pen to hint the slightest displeasure of men, and what a storm of protest is raised.

Uneasiness is male vanity that it cannot endure even the suggestion that all men are not always strong, intelligent, logical, hardworking, sincere, witty, modest, charming creatures. And if a woman undertakes to criticise the performance of any individual man, his body aches terribly, terribly, hurt. Not even a wife can afford often the role of critic on the hearth.

THAT in this matter of touchy resentment of feminine criticism men are the same yesterday, today and—let it be—forever, has been brought home to us not only by the reaction to our own good-humored columnar attempts to prick a few bubbles of male egotism, but by the reaction of the first biography of America's first feminist. She was Anne Hutchinson, of early Colonial days in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York, and Winifred King Rugg appropriately calls her story of Anne's life, "Unafraid."

However, she was unafraid, from the day when she persuaded her husband to leave their peaceful, prosperous English home for the hardships and dangers of life in Boston in 1634, to that other day eight years later when she fell beneath the hands of totalitarians, the Pelegian Park. Denunciation, excommunicating, banishment—dauntless Anne Hutchinson faced them all, for freedom of conscience and freedom of speech. But the sympathetic modern woman who reads Anne's story realises that all her troubles were really due to one cause: she dared to criticise her male contemporaries to both their faces and to America's first women's club.

Anne Hutchinson—whom most American histories, written by men, vaguely picture as a mere matron and troublemaker—was, in the contrary, for many years a woman greatly respected and admired by her community. She was always respected, admired and loved by William, her husband, and by her large family of children. She was an inspiration even to the stern Puritan preachers—until she disagreed with and criticised them.

BOSTON was four years old when she settled there with husband and family. "Inside of two years," Miss Rugg writes, "Anne Hutchinson found herself at the centre of every kind of men. Of the other kind was William, Anne's loyal and loving husband. When her enemies asked him to renounce the doctrines of his wife, "William," says Miss Rugg, "had few words to reply, but they entirely covered the situation."

"That I shall not do," stanchly said William. "I am more nearly tied to my wife than to the church, and I look upon her as a dear saint and servant of God."

The happiest thing about Anne Hutchinson's story is its proof that a "modern woman" may also be a loving and beloved wife. Still, why not? As Anne's biographer wisely observes, "Life with Anne must have been interesting."

Cheruit Sleeves

LONG, tight sleeves appear in some of the new evening dresses created by Cheruit. Puff sleeves are restricted to afternoon frocks. Coat sleeves flare and there are evidences of the old-fashioned tight under-

A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Dorris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930.

Daily change in breakfast hot breads not only meets the demand for that greatest jewel, dietary variety, but utilizes the whole range of cereals and grains from corn to rice.

Dry ingredients speedily combined with wet ingredients and baked in a property to become hot breads in the time it takes to tell about them.

Speed hot breads do not make the breakfast meal small; it seems there cannot be too many kinds. Raisin or date or fig or nut or dried fruits or muffins are the greatest variety to crisp on the outside and nut brown.

In tone, tender and sweet at the heart, these breakfast gems rarely fail to catch the morning appetite for the morning the oven is ten minutes. Twenty minutes for the gems frizzling for the applause of the table.

FRUITED OATMEAL GEMS One and one-half cups of oatmeal One cup of sour milk One cup sifted flour One-half teaspoon soda One teaspoon salt Two tablespoons baking powder Four tablespoons sugar One well beaten egg Two tablespoons melted butter One-third cup raisins or dates or figs

Over temperature: 400 degrees F. Baking time: twenty minutes. Yield: about twelve gems

The night before the gems are to grace the breakfast table measure the oatmeal into the mixing bowl; pour over it and add sugar or lemon juice, drop by drop, to sweet mixture. A sour mixture results in the oatmeal and sour milk stand, covered, overnight.

In the morning light the oven first. Then grease the gem pans, iron ones are preferred, and heat in the oven. Gem must be poured into well-heated pans and then hurried to the oven for baking.

Look over the raisins or shred the dates or figs. If a malnut gem is desired, crack the nuts and then break them into coarse pieces. Cut the flour and measure into the sifted with the salt, soda, baking powder and sugar. Beat the egg in the measuring cup to facilitate washing later. Heat the butter in the oven just long enough to melt it.

The oven being hot, or about 400 degrees, sift the combined dry ingredients into the oatmeal-sour milk mixture; then stir the well-beaten egg into the sifted dry ingredients. Add the flour and melted butter. Remove the gem pans from the oven where they have been heating and quickly drop a spoon of dough into each gem "pan"—that is, divide the dough among twelve or fourteen containers.

Bake for twenty minutes in the hot oven. Take from the oven when crisp and brown and serve at once. Slip a knife around the edges of those not served and under the edges and return to the warm (but unheated) oven.

When called for these gems will still be warm and crisp. Otherwise the bottom will have become soft and insipid.

Mrs. S. has a charming living room, well proportioned and well lighted. She

Modernizing the Home

Dear Miss Zais:

Will you help me in the arrangement of my furniture? My living room has such a commanding appearance, but I am unable to buy new furniture at once.

The room is 18 feet long by 14 feet wide, in an apartment with southern exposure. This is the present arrangement (diagram). My secretary and Duncan Phyfe droptail table are old pieces of mahogany. The rest are new and the same feeling. The radio table is old English, in type, with worn stretchers.

My rug is 8 by 10, plain taupe with a narrow border of blue and darker taupe. The davenport is also taupe, a very light, fine, 8 feet long. The ranged Queen Anne chair is covered in a blue-sprigged with green and a hint of red.

The windows are side by side with a leaded glass at the top. I have crisp ruffled curtain rods and curtains. The drapes are hung on a Judd cut-steel rod. They are a neutral blue with a very dark thread running through.

On the davenport I have cushions—two of jade green and two of purple. Sacks are in the chair. I have the purchased pillows. Over the gateleg table I have a rather good old mirror with carved frame.

My lamps consist of one table lamp with black base (which I shall discard as soon as possible), one peacock oil-pot lamp (floor lamp), one table lamp with all high parchment shades, one with a Godoy print and one floral print.

I have two hooked rug and one hooked chair seat. I have deep windowsills and on these I have the purchased pillows. Over the gateleg table I have a rather good old mirror with carved frame.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It can't contain drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and it works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Protect Your Furniture

A $1.25 to rid your home of moths may save you hundreds of dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

MISS SHEARER EXCELLENT IN NEW TALKIE

It is said that executives of the producing organization experienced some difficulty in finding a vehicle for Miss Shearer which would be a fitting successor to her preceding successes, "The Trial of Mary Dusen," and "The Last of Mrs. Cheaney," the company finally hitting upon the Fuller novel "Their Own Desire" which was satisfactorily adapted to Miss Shearer's purposes by Frances Marion.

The story deals with a modern girl whose parents are on the verge of separation due to the father's belief that his wife has become too old for him. When Lally, the daughter, played by Miss Shearer, finds her father in the arms of another woman, she becomes embittered and takes her mother to a resort to get away from the insulting domestic situation. Here she falls in love with Jack, Robert Montgomery—whom she promises to marry, subsequently to discover that he is the son of the very woman whom she has seen with her father. The climax of the story gives Miss Shearer ample opportunity for a display of that dramatic talent for which she is so very well known, while the swift moving sequences, the dialogue and the finished performances of the supporting cast place the picture as something above the average.

Besides Montgomery, the supporting cast contains such well-known players as Lewis Stone, Belle Bennett, Helene Millard and Mary Doran, while minor roles are played by Cecile Cunningham, June Nash and Henry Herbert.

The direction was placed in the capable hands of E. Mason Hopper and James Forbes. Forbes concentrating particularly on the dialogue.

This picture will be shown at the Fox-California theater today and tomorrow, and on this bill is Mickey Mouse cartoon and an Our Gang comedy.

WOMEN FLIERS LAUDED BY TEACHER

OAKLAND, Feb. 27.—When automobiles came into vogue, the ability of women to drive them was a matter of national moment, and the debate has now shifted to the question of whether or not a woman can fly an airplane as well as a man.

George Myers, who heads the flying staff of the Boeing School of Aeronautics at Oakland, has been an army flying instructor, a college professor, and was one of the veterans of the transcontinental air mail service, and Myers is bold enough to venture this prediction:

"I disagree with those who think that women cannot become competent pilots. Flying with the planes we have nowadays requires no great physical strength and an airplane can be maneuvered as easily from a automobile. A good flyer needs a cool head, good judgment and proper coordination of his mental and manual processes. Consequently I will vote in favor of a woman in such a debate."

RUINS OF THE Bayway refinery of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, on the outskirts of Elizabeth, where ten men lost their lives and 62 others were seriously injured. Many Hospitals Get Game Shot Out Of Season

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—While the illegal possession of fish and game cost hunters and fishermen large sums of money, hospitals and charitable institutions throughout California benefited materially thru donations of valuable food during the month of January. Valued according to the price paid in the open market for food of a similar nature, the donations from the Division of Fish and Game to the various charitable organizations in the state during that month would have amounted to $1,527.80.

When hunters and fishermen are found with game birds, animals or fish in their possession contrary to the game laws of the state, wardens making arrests are empowered to seize the illegal kill. After the material has been held as evidence in the trial of the violators, the seized evidence, if in condition to be used, is at once given to those organizations where it will do the most good.

Some idea of the quantity of illegal game seized during January can be obtained from the fact that 935 pounds of deer meat was included in the confiscated material. Another important item was wild duck, with a total of 457 birds being taken from hunters.

A total check of the fish and game taken from those who had it in their possession illegally shows that, besides the venison

Scout Budget Fixed At $9490

At an executive board meeting of Contra Costa Boy Scouts in Martinez recently, the budget for the year was fixed at $9490 as the amount needed this year to carry on Scouting activities in this county.

It was announced that tests would be held March 26 to pick the Contra Costa Eagle Scout who will participate in the best Scout tests.

A training camp in camp administration will be held at Camp Diamond in Oakland April 14 to 19, it was announced.

Members of the Junior Girls' Hi-Y gathered at a party in the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon.

Games were played, and refreshments concluded the affair. The party was directed by Dorothy Armstrong, leader of the club.

SOLONS REFUSE TO TAKE OATH

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Early files of the Montana Post, published 65 years ago in Virginia City, relate how a group of House members refused to swear allegiance to the American flag at the first legislative session of Montana, Dec. 12, 1864.

The situation was embarrassing and Gov. Edgerton, territorial governor appointed by President Lincoln, cast about for a solution. He pointed out that refusal to acknowledge the United States amounted to virtual anarchy and added that the assembly might be forced to disband.

The pseudo-revolutionaries were adamant.

And then the governor discovered the right key to the situation. He told the recalcitrant lawmakers that no salary would be paid them unless they formally swore allegiance.

The Post's amusing account concludes:

"This touched the Madison county delegation in a tender place, and with such wry faces as a patient who tastes distasteful purgatives after eating turkeys, buzzards, they swallowed the 'ironclad' without mental reservation or evasion."

"This done, the temporary organization followed without difficulty."

Lary, Reese Give Yank Camp Thrill

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Battling practice and fungo chasing exercises comprised the chief items on the Yankee roster today. An infield with Durs at first base, Reese at second Lary at short and Chapman at third, performed some circus stunts after the pitchers finished work.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Two Olympic and three national champions have filed entries for the American track and field indoor championships at Madison Square Garden, March 18.

Fur Farmer Has Badger For Pet

ROY, Mont., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—R. Shipman, Warm Springs creek fur farmer, owns a "one-man" pet. It's a husky and scrappy badger. Whenever Shipman goes shopping his tame badger trots along dutifully at his heels. It manifests great devotion toward its master and open contempt toward other human bipeds. Dogs have learned that this strange quadruped is "bad medicine" and give him his share of the road unmolested.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Manager Bill McKenzie today gave Outfielders Walter Berger and Earl Clark an opportunity to work out in the Braves' infield. Scarcity of right-handed batters and good infield replacements will make the converted gardeners favorites for jobs if they show ability.

Sunny ELECTRIC HEAT for cold days

The lion and the lamb have their fling at the weather throughout the spring months. So keep a portable electric heater handy for the sudden changes to cold and rain.

The widespread heat and sunny, cheerful glow of the electric heater banish chills. Use your electric heater in the breakfast room. Use it for dressing, bathing or when the children come home with cold, wet feet. Healthful electric warmth helps prevent colds and gives your entire family much comfort.

There are two types of portable electric heaters. Those that give a beam of heat where you want it and those that heat and circulate the air. Your dealer or our office has both types.

1000 TO TAKE PART IN U.C. ATHLETICS

BERKELEY, Feb. 26.—An intramural-sports program that affords athletic competition to more than 1000 students has been outlined for the spring semester at the University of California by Harold Proctor, director of intramural activities. The program now in progress, will run until near the close of the school year.

Interclass, interfraternity and non-organization tournaments and meets will be held in 12 different sports; touch football, boxing, wrestling, track, basketball, tennis, handball, squash, crew, fencing, gymnastics and swimming. Schedules for most of these are complete.

A free-for-all squash tournament is an innovation in intramural activities this year. Numerous applications for matches have been received from various organizations around the bay district. It is hoped that a team will be developed from the local tournament to meet outside teams.

The interfraternity touch football tournament completed its first round this week. Sixty-three fraternities on the campus have entered teams of ten men each in this sport thus giving competitive participation to 630 students.

The annual interclass track meet scheduled for March 4 and 6, will be held under the direction of Walter Christie, varsity track coach. Full distances will be run in all track events.

Interclass, boxing and wrestling matches are to be held the night of March 5 in Harmon gymnasium on the campus. Varsity men are eligible to compete, Proctor announced.

Interfraternity basketball has not been definitely scheduled, but will start in the middle of March and is expected to draw as many men as the touch football tournament. Non-organization and interfraternity tennis doubles will follow basketball.

The annual interclass gym meet will be held March 3.

CONFUSION MARKS SHARKEY VICTORY OVER SCOTT

BOUT REPLETE WITH CALLS OF 'FOUL'

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Amidst scenes of terrific confusion such as have not attended a heavyweight bout in some years, Jack Sharkey of Boston was declared winner on a technical knockout over Phil Scott of England in the third round of the winter heavyweight carnival before 24,000 persons here tonight.

The end came after two minutes, 34 seconds of the third, which does not include a lapse of time spent in frantic arguing during which the action was suspended.

Coming out with a bull like rush in the third, Sharkey dropped Scott to one knee for the count of three with a terrific left to the stomach.

Foul Claimed

Scott made no claims of foul, although he looked warningly towards his corner. A moment later, however, Jack ripped in a series of left hooks, and the Englishman went into his diving act crying, "Foul!"

This time Scott was down for the count of six. They made him get up although he didn't want to and again Sharkey drove him back with wicked body punches. A left to the pit of his stomach sent Scott into the rosin. This time there was no count because Jimmie Johnston, Scott's second, entered the ring and helped assist Phillip to his stool. Sharkey stood waiting in his corner while Lou Magnolia and Johnston examined Scott. The count was stopped for a little over a minute. Then the referee told Scott he must continue. Grimacing and clenching his groin, Scott stepped around on one leg to keep Sharkey off, but a few seconds afterwards off the end came.

Then The End

Sharkey again flew at Phillip, whose face wore a pained and resigned expression. Jack hooked a left high to the body and Scott sank back against the ropes panting for help.

Lou Magnolia stepped between the fighters. Jimmie Johnston came into the ring yelling "murder" and Sharkey backed away. The referee then went over and raised Jack's hands while the boys dropped Phillip on a stool and made him comfortable.

Afterwards Magnolia issued a statement in which he said that at no time during the bout had any of the blows which hurt Scott been low.

Scott Warned

"After Scott went down for the third time in the third," Magnolia said, "I told him that he had better hit fairly and must continue or be disqualified."

The minute intermission was allowed Scott to make up his mind so that the fight would not be spoiled.

Sharkey sat on his stool smiling cheerfully while Scott leaned on the ropes looking nervous after they had entered the ring.

Lou Magnolia was referee.

Joe Humphries introduced Sharkey as "the only American heavyweight contender."

Then came Scott's turn and there were ironical cheers.

Finally Phil got up reluctantly, glancing nervously around. He got up at six. He dropped would not meet Sharkey's eye.

Round One

Sharkey ran across the ring and laced Scott with right to head. He then jabbed left to head and Scott clinched. Scott was backing up. Jack drove terrific right to body. They sparred and Scott blocked a left lead. Jack swung hard right to head. Sharkey went in pounding hard to body with rights. He then hooked left to body forcing Scott to ropes. They traded left jabs.

Round Two

Round Three

Risko-Campolo Draw

Johnny Risko, 195, Cleveland, and Vittorio Campolo, 226, Argentina were next.

Campolo outboxed Risko in the first round and dropped the pudgy Cleveland boxer to his knee with a hard right to the back of the neck as the round ended. The big South American outboxed Risko at the long range in his second but Johnny piled up points at a slight advantage.

In the third Risko opened a furious attack and drove Campolo into a corner. Johnny was making a great fight and had the unskilled Argentine missing quite frequently.

Even Break

Campolo pounded short rights to the head at the start of the fourth but Risko rallied in the final minute to earn an even break. Vittorio's heavier pounding enabled him to win the fifth when he nearly piled Johnny off the floor with stinging body blows.

Campolo was unable to evade Risko's sweeping left hooks in the sixth and found the smaller Cleveland boxer an elusive target. Johnny won the round.

The Argentine, infuriated, rushed in trying for a knockout in the seventh, but Johnny easily evaded the wild rush. Campolo's left eye was swollen almost shut and he staggered as Risko drove two hard lefts to the jaw.

Risko swarmed all over Campolo in the eighth and twice staggered his huge foe with torrid rights to the chin.

Risko took the ninth round by a big margin.

Declared Tie

Campolo attempted a rally in the tenth and ripped many hard rights to Risko's body. Johnny was tiring badly but fought back gamely. Campolo opened new attack just before the bell and won the round.

The bout was declared a draw.

Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, 191½, outpointed Pierre Charles, Belgium, 209, in a 10 round bout which followed the Sharkey-Scott go.

"The Green Goddess," starring George Arliss, is a Warner Bros.
Vitaphone picturization of this novel.SYNOPSIS
Major Anthony Crespin and his wife, Lucilla, are being taken from India to Pahari, where their children are spending the hot months of India, in the airplane of Dr. Basil Traherne, a former school-fellow of the Major's. Traherne has kept Crespin from being cashed for drunkenness and is trying to cure him of his craving for drink in spite of the fact that he is in love with Lucilla. He loses his way in the fog and is forced to bring his airplane down in the rocky, inhospitable country of Rukh. Crespin is jealous of his wife's admiration for Traherne's skill as a flyer, and they quarrel.

A seated figure inside it showed but indistinctly through the gauzy film of the litter's curtains; a human figure undoubtedly, and in perfect repose, but instinct with power. Immediately behind him came the strangest sight in Rukh—an English valet, an impudent, demure, correct valet who might have strolled into the picture from St. James Street, unmoved, detached and imperturbable.

Behind Watkins, for his name was as English as his coat, came the Raja's bodyguard, or a considerable detachment of it—grim-faced, high-cheeked men of all heights and shapes, dressed in the most fantastic and parti-colored attire that men-at-arms ever wore yet.

The bearers put the litter down deferentially, directly in front of the temple, and knelt down behind it with their faces to the ground.

The man in Bond Street clothes came at once, with a padded, cat-like tread to the side of the resting litter, parted its curtains, and held down obsequiously a crooked broad-cloth arm through which, as it rose, the seated figure put a slim hand.

The Raja stepped out, released his servitor's arm, and made just a step towards the three Europeans, scanning the men lightly and in silence—not seeming to see Mrs. Crespin.

He was tall, well-built, about forty. Traherne thought, and the two Englishmen knew from his jewell that, whatever his people were, the Raja of Rukh was fabulously rich.

Major Crespin pulled himself up roundly, not to show his hurt to the other man. "What does it say?"

She thought him ridiculously "trapped out."

Crespin advanced and saluted. The European inclined his head slightly. "Does Your Highness speak English?" Crespin asked.

"Oh, yes a little," the Rukh said in English as English as Crespin's own.

Crespin pulled himself together instantly. "Then I have to apologize for our landing uninvited in your territory."

"Uninvited; but I assure you not unwelcome."

"We are given to understand that this is the State of Rukh."

"The Kingdom of Rukh," the Raja said with a shadowy smile. "Major—if I rightly read the symbols on your cuff—"

"Major Crespin," Antony stated, saluting again. "Permit me to introduce my wife."

The Raja of Rukh saw Mrs. Crespin for the first time—apparently. He salamed profoundly. "I am delighted, Madam, to welcome you to my secluded dominions. You are the first lady of your nation I have had the honor of receiving."

"Your Highness is very kind," Mrs. Crespin said, rising.

"And this," Crespin gestured, "is Dr. Basil Traherne, whose airplane—or what is left of it—you see."

The Raja smiled, more widely, more genially this time. "Dr. Traherne? The Doctor Traherne whose name I have so often seen in the newspaper? The Pasteur of Maria?"

"The newspapers make too much of my work," Traherne disallowed. "It is very incomplete."

"Rome was not built in a day," the Raja laughed, "or the Taj. But you are an aviator as well."

"Only as an amateur," Traherne insisted.

The Raja let that pass. "I presume it is some misadventure—a most fortunate misadventure for me—that has carried you so far into the wilds beyond the Himalayas?"

"Yes," Traherne assented ruefully. "We got lost in the clouds. Major and Mrs. Crespin were coming up from the plains to see their children at a hill station—"

"Pahari, no doubt?"

"Yes, Pahari—and I was rash enough to suggest that I might save us three days' traveling, by taking them in my airplane."

SAVANT LAUDS SOUTHERN STATE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Because southern California's skies are clear and warm, and its ground is still "wakeful" this region will become one of the world's foremost research centers.

This prediction was made by Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, and was accompanied by an announcement of a large building program for the institute.

"This region," Dr. Millikan asserted, "offers greater natural advantages for the pursuit of astronomy and geology than any other spot in the world."

"With nearby mountains providing altitude above the ground haze, with temperatures moderate enough to assure human efficiency in observing, with relatively windless heights and a large percentage of cloudless nights, the astronomical scientist has a matchless opportunity here to read the secrets of the heavens."

Earth Stress Studies
No other locality offers the opportunity for the structural engineer to study architecture designed to withstand and to a measure overcome earth movements, Dr. Millikan declared.

An equally inviting field is offered the geologist by southern California's mountain ranges, the noted scientist said.

"Mountain ranges actually in the process of being built are located in this region," Dr. Millikan said, "showing how nature has gone about forming the earth for millions and millions of years in the past and how the process will continue for millions and millions of years in the future."

Earth Wakeful
"Because the earth is till wakeful, experts are able to study seismology with the view of utilizing it in engineering to combat earth movements such as occur in California."

The building program of the institute, as detailed by Dr. Millikan, includes 10 structures, some of which are already under way, and all of which already are planned.

Included in the program are three buildings to be used in connection with the 200-inch reflecting telescope planned for the institute, two geological buildings, and one to house biology research laboratories.

Another is the Atheneum, the gift of Mrs. and Mrs. Allen C. Balch to be used as a meeting place for workers in the institute, Mount Wilson. Three new dormitories bring the total to 10.

Davis Cup Team Will Be Named In Near Future

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Amateur tennis leaders have started preparations for a campaign to bring the Davis Cup back to the United States. Star players of the nation are gathering in Florida for the winter tournament season and an official Davis Cup squad will be named shortly.

The winter season opens March 3 with the Florida championships at Palm Beach and will continue until late in April. United States Lawn Tennis association officials have reserved the second week in April for a proposed Davis Cup training camp in Florida, Georgia or White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Present plans call for the assembling of Davis Cup squad during this week for practice under a capable professional. The squad will include four Davis Cup choices and two alternates. Al though no official selections have been made Francis T. Hunter of

New York; George Lott of Chicago; Johnny Doug of California; John Van Ryn of South Orange, N. J. and Wilmer Allison of Texas are believed certain of places on the squad.

In American zone competition the United States will oppose Canada, Mexico and Cuba. Following these matches the American team will sail for Europe and meet the European zone winners in the inter-zone finals, July 18, 19 and 20.

The challenge round with France will be played July 25, 26 and 27. If the United States reaches the challenge round, as is expected, it will make a strong bid to end France's three year reign as Davis Cup winner.

WOMEN RULE MONTANA CITY

DARBY, Mont., Feb. 27.—(UPI)—Governed for the past few years entirely by women, the little town of Darby is a model of efficient administration and economical operation.

The mayor and council are of the fair sex and, what's more, they have done an excellent job of running this municipality—far better, it is whispered than their male predecessors.

These fair administrators have furnished an object lesson in harmony and co-operation. They proceed on the theory that actions speak louder than words. Their actions to date have produced the following concrete results:

Not only is Darby entirely free of debt, but its general financial condition is excellent.

Efficient management and intelligent economy have caused a heavy tax cut—from 10 mills in 1928 to 6 mills in 1929.

In spite of the economy program, general city improvements have proceeded, including street grading, sidewalk construction and other municipal betterments.

Town folk of Darby are evidently satisfied with their feminine mayor and council. It is freely predicted they will be re-elected.

Game Board To Study Habits Of Animals

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—

The Bureau of Education and Research of the Division of Fish and Game has announced that immediate steps will be taken to prosecute a thorough investigation of the food habits and economic relations of those birds and animals in California considered destructive to game, in order that one resource may not be saved at the expense of another. The science laboratories and other facilities of the University of California will be used in this investigation.

In announcing the proposed investigation, the Division of Fish and Game has taken into consideration its duty to care for the fish and game of the state. The question of predatory animals and their relation to game has long been the subject of debate. Organized groups of sportsmen have asked for campaigns of destruction.

In contrast to this viewpoint is that of many scientists who maintain that the predatory animal has a real place in nature and its destruction endangers the success of other animals of the forests.

Additional research is needed before predatory forms of birds and animals can be evaluated.

Arrangements have been completed with the University of California to direct such an investigation to determine important facts relative to predatory animals. E. L. Summer has been employed as a research fellow to carry on the work that has been outlined.

He will work under the guidance of Dr. Joseph Grinnell, director of the museum of vertebrate zoology of the state university. It is expected that the result of the investigation will be the production of facts which will be useful in helping to settle one of the most controversial questions which confronts the Division.
